BUSY AT SAGAMORE HILL.

Congressman McKinley of Illinois, chairman of the Congressional campaign committee, Congressman Henry C. Louden-slager of New Jersey, secretary of the committee, and Candidate Sherman, last year's an automobile and reached Sagamore Hil

The visit is said to have been quite after lunch and drove directly to New

After luncheon the President had a talk withWade Ellis of Ohio, the newly appointed

Assistant Attorney-General of the United States. Mr. Ellis came to consult with the

IT FLIES WITHOUT A TAIL.

HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., Aug. 28.-The

ing without a tail was tried. The entire leaving only the vertical rudder back of the Two flights were made. In the first the machine was ridden by Mr. McCurdy and borizontal controls were effective

RUSH HOUR BRIDGE BLOCK.

Fourteenth Street Car Derailed on Williams

burg Bridge Causes Trouble.

A crowded westbound car of the Fourteenth street line became derailed at the

in the rush hour yesterday morning by jumping a circuit breaker. The accident occurred shortly after 7 o'clock and it blocked the system for nearly an hour. Many pas-

OBITUARY.

and Frederick Edwards of Yonkers.

Edgar Williams of 189 Hicks street, Brooklyn, who had been a resident of the Heights for over sixty years, died on Wednesday at Manchester, Vt., in his eighty-fourth year. He was founder of the wholesale grocery firm of E. & R. C. Williams. He was a charter member of the Y. M. C. A. and a trustee of the Brooklyn Tract Society. He had been a deacon and elder of the Second Presbyterian Church. His wife survives him. Joseph H. Lewis, one of the best known propeller.

about half past 11 o'clock.

York.

land Chib on Tuesday night and had left the club on Wednesday morning. Between the time Williams left his club and the hour on Thursday night when the reporters found him at his country home outside of Baltimore no trace of his movements could be discovered by the Atlantic City detectives.

Mr. Williams has not appeared at Atlantic City since the report of the shooting of Mr. Roberts became public. One of his close friends who is stopping at the Brighton Hotel and who has been one of the principal advisers of Mrs. Williams since Wednesday ight's shooting spread abroad said today that he did not know whether or not Mrs. Williams had been in communication with her husband, and he could not say when she would leave Atlantic City and return to Baltimore. Mr. Williams has not been seen about Atlantic City this summer, the hotel gossips have it.

Mrs. Williams and her three daughters, who have been sojourning here—some say for several days, others for three weekskept to their rooms in the Brighton Hotel this afternoon and the hotel management did much to discourage inquirers from gaining an audience with Mrs. Williams. Inis afternoon she gave out a typewritten statement, which she specified should be for the use of the Baltimore reporters only. Her statement was this:

"Mr. Roberts and I left the Brighton Hotel in a rolling chair at about twenty minutes to 10. Mr. Roberts is an old friend of the family.

"When we reached Rhode Island avenue I suggested that we should return. Mr. Roberts told the chair pusher to do so, Mr. Williams has not appeared at Atlantic suggested that we should return. Mr. Roberts told the chair pusher to do so when the door was forcibly opened and when the door was foreibly opened and we were confronted by a masked man with a revolver, who commanded us to hold up our hands and demanded money. Mr. Roberts refused to do so, and as he advanced toward the man the latter fired and then ran away. Mr. Roberts said, 'I'm shot.' By this time the pusher had secured an officer.

"The officer called for an ambulance and went to a nearby hotel to wait, where a physician took him (Roberts) in charge and put him in an automobile, which carried him to the hospital. Two gentlemen then took me back to the Brighton Hotel, where I arrived at ten minutes of 11. The shooting occurred at about a quarter past 10."

An amplification of Mrs. Williams's statement concerning the incidents attending

An ampuncation of Mrs. Williams a statement concerning the incidents attending the shooting was made later by J. Olney Norris, a business associate of Mr. Roberts who is spending his vacation here. He said:

"Mrs. Williams and her children had been spending a few days at the Brighton Hotel who an Wednesday morning Mr. Roberts came up here from Baltimore in answer to a telegram I sent him. His mission to a telegram—I sent him. His mission was purely a business one and he did not know that Mrs. Williams and her family were stopping at the Brighton—When he came to the hotel after meeting me he happened to meet Mrs. Williams. The two are good friends: in fact, the Bobertsee and the Williamses are members of the same social set in Baltimore and near heighbors—That night, Wednesday, Mr. Roberts, Mrs. Williams and the latter's fifteen-year-old daughter—Sarah, took a fifteen-year-old daughter, Sarah, took a rolling chair to the Shelburne Hotel where dinner together in the grill. The bout 9 ofclook."

"Then Miss Williams went to her room to retire, while Mr. Roberts and Mrs. Williams, having decided to continue their ride, took having the rolling chair and went down the having decided to continue their rice, took the same rolling chair and went down the Boardwalk. They left the Brighton Hotel about 9:15. Mrs. Williams tells me that they were about two squares above Heinz's Pier, when a man wearing some kind of a gray felt mask over his face approached them. He stopped and peered through gray felt mask over his face approached them. He stopped and peered through the glass in the rain cover of the rolling chair. It was drizzling at the time. Then he thrust aside the covering and pushed a revolver in their faces.

"Hands up," he said, I want your valuables." Mrs. Williams handed out her chatelaine hag, a valuable thing which is studded with small diamonds, but the highwayman waved that aside.

"I want the man's money," he said. Then he ordered Mr. Roberts to step out of the chair, and Mrs. Williams followed him.

"Mr. Roberts, whom I have seen in the hospital since the shooting, tells me that he had no idea of giving up to the highwayman so easily, and that he was just about to rush him, although the man was about to rush him, although the man was big and very muscular in appearance, when the man opened fire on him from a distance of about three or four feet. One shot went wild and the second struck Mr.

The negro pusher had run away at the first appearance of the highwayman and Mr. Roberts with Mrs Williams had to walk to a nearby hotel where they found medical assistance. Then Mr. Roberts was removed

"There is absolutely no foundation for the about the shooting." Mr. Norris concluded.
"I know both Mr. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs.
Williams, and I know them to be the best of friends. Mrs. Williams has been staying here with the entire knowledge and sanction friends. Mrs. Williams has been staying here with the entire knowledge and sanction of her husband and all reports about undue intimacy between her and Mr. Roberts while here must be false on their face, for Mr. Roberts had not been in town twelve hours when he was shot.*

The thread of the story supplied by Mrs. Williams and Mr. Norris is taken up by Dr. John King, an osteopathist whose office is in the Westmont Hotel, at the corner of Oriental and Rhode Island avenues, a block and a half from where the shooting took place. It was to the Westmont that Mr. Roberts and Mrs. Williams walked after they had been deserted by their pusher, and it was Dr. King who gave first aid to the injured man He said this afternoon:

"A party of friends were with me in my office on the ground floor of the Westmont on. Wednesday night. About ten minutes to it I heard a commotion in the hallway and ran out to find Mr. Roberts sitting in a wicker chair by the door, bleeding from a wound in the chest. Mrs. Williams was standing on the other side of the room talking to several men and women guests who had been attracted to the hallway. Mr. Roberts was excited, but Mrs. Williams as attached perfectly cool.

"What do you think of that, doctor?" were the first words that the wounded man addressed to me. What do you think of a man being held up and shot on the board-walk?".

"He repeated and reiterated this question

He repeated and reiterated this question "The repeated and reiterated this question several times
"The few moments I worked over him Policeman Rust came in, and Mr. Roberts and Mrs. Williams told him briefly the same story I had heard, but when he asked them their names and addresses both refused several times to supply that information. Mrs. Williams said, We do not want this matter to become public on my account. She repeated that statement more than cooke, and Mr. Roberts concurred in it."

Dr. King was positive that the time when the wounded man appeared was 10:50. Mrs. Williams had said in her formal statement that the shooting took place at 10:15. The distance from where the rolling chair was held up and the Westmont Hotel is about a block and a half.

Mrs. Roberts, wife of the wounded man arrived in Atlantic City to-day and stopped at the Brighton Hotel. She asked the physicians if she might visit her husband at the hospital immediately upon her arrival, but they deemed it unwise for her to do so, and she stayed in seclusion in the hotel all day.

Miss Nannie Sloan, a sister of Mrs. Rob eria also hurried to Atlantic City from Bev-only Farms, Mass. She said her sister did not care to make any statement in the matter.

When Miss Stoan was asked concerning the whereabouts of Mr. Williams just prior to the time when Mr. Roberts came to Atlanta the time when Mr. Roberts came to Atlanta who acted as to the time when Mr. Roberts came to Atlan-tic City, she said, as others who acted as spokesmen for the principals in the shoot-ing said, that Mr. Williams had but re-cently returned from Europe. She dis-claimed all knowledge of his having been in a sanitarium in this country, as Mrs. Will-iams had told the police. Dr. Darriell and Dr. J. C. Marshall, two

Dr. Darriell and Dr. J. C. Marshall, two local physicians who have been in attendance upon Mr. Roberts with the two Baltimore doctors, gave out a statement on the patient's condition late to-night. It was to the effect that the bullet which had struck Mr. Roberts had entered the right side between the second and third ribs, ranged downward and lodged in the liver. The position of the bullet made it impossible to operate in the present weakened condition of the patient, they said. While the wound is serious Mr. Roberts is holding his own, and unless he suffers a relapse own, and unless he suffers a relaps in the next twenty-four hours the

An interesting side light developed today when investigation was made into the manner of the suppression of the news of Mr. Roberts's shooting. It appeared that when a report was made to police headquarters by the policeman on post not a thing concerning the incident was allowed to escape from the office of Capt. Whalen of the detective bureau. An influential local newspaper proprietor who is a close friend of several of the proprietors of the big hotels succeeded in stopping publication of the news in two of the local papers on Thursday morning. A single paragraph containing news of the shooting without names appeared in a rival paper.

appeared in a rival paper.

Had it not been that there were several newspaper men from Philadelphia down here on Thursday to report the progress of the excise fight and that they caught the common gossip the details of the shooting affair might have been kept quiet for some time.

Capt. Whalen in his refusal to give out anything concerning the shooting would not say whether Mrs. Williams had been asked to remain here as a witness in possi-ble future investigations or whether she was free to go at any time.

It was reported late to-night that Mrs.
Williams had left on an evening train for Baltimore. No confirmation of this could be obtained at the Brighton Hotel.

SON ACCUSED THE FATHER. J. B. Braman Arrested When He Appeared

Against Daughter-in-Law. Mrs. Joseph H. Braman of 447 Fourth venue fell heir to $3,000 from an aunt everal months ago, and after drawing $50 of the amount yesterday she went to 1274 Broadway to visit her father-in-law, Joseph Balch Braman, a lawyer and commissioner of deeds for all the States and Territories or needs for all the States and Tellifers and many foreign countries.

When Mr Braman declined to admit the woman to his office she commenced kicking on the door, and finally Traffic Policeman Walter was called in. He persuaded her to go away, but as soon as his back was turned Mrs Braman went up to her father-in-Mrs. Braman went up to her father-in-law's office again and smashed the glass door. The woman was then arrested, and Mr. Braman went to the Tenderloin station

When the party got to the station house the woman's husband was waiting for her. After a charge of intoxication, malicious mischief and disorderly conduct had been made against the woman her husband had a talk with her. Then the woman showed Lieut. Gilhooly her bank book, indicating that she had drawn $50 during the day, and declared that while she was visiting her father-in-law he took the $50 from her purse.

deciared that while ane was visiting her father-in-law he took the $50 from her purse.

The son backed up the charge, saying that he was present and saw the money taken. His father told the lieutenant that he hadn't seen his son for a week, but Mr. Braman was held on the charge. The money was not found on him when he was searched. Mr. Braman, who is a thirty-second degree Mason and member of the Mystic Shrine and other Masonic orders, was bailed out shortly by John Lloyd Thomas, commander of the New York Consistory of Scottish Rite.

Mr. Braman said that his son had been the black sheep of the family for twenty years. He was arrested a few weeks ago for passing worthless checks, the father said, and his mother settled the case. Several years ago the son went out to Los Angeles and got in trouble there. Then he went to Denver and was arrested for obtaining goods under false pretences. Mr. Braman said that his wife had spent hundreds of dollars keeping their son out of trouble.

Mr. Braman is a civil war veteran, having left Harvard in his freshman year to join a Massachusetts volunteer company. He became a Captain and served at New Orleans under Gen. B. F. Butler. He is the organist of Lafavette Post, G. A. R. His wife, Ella F.

nder Gen. B. F. Butler. He is the organist f Lafayette Post, G. A. R. His wife, Ella F. Braman, is also a commissioner of for various States.

HURT IN RUNAWAY.

Augustus Van Cortlandt and His Sister Thrown From Brougham.

Augustus Van Cortlandt, the oldest living nember of the old New York Van Cortlandt family, and his sister, Mrs. J. W. Monroe. whose husband was a descendant of James Monroe, the fifth President of the United States, had a narrow escape from serious injury last night when they were thrown from a brougham while riding across the Bronx Park Bridge. Mr. Van Cortlandt, who is 82 years old, and his sister, who is 84, set out to take a drive from their home, nue, The Bronx.

While crossing the Bronx Park Bridge the yoke strap on one of the horses broke and a second later the whiffetree snapped. Bernard Marray, the driver, was unable to control the team, and the brougham banged against the rail of the bridge and over-turned, throwing Mr. Van Cortlandt and his sister to the roadway. Both sustained severe scalp wounds and contusions of the body, but they refused to be treated by an ambulance surgeon and were sent home in an automobile.

A mounted policeman of the Wakefield station called an ambulance from Fordham Hospital and Dr. Lordi attended Marray, whose head was cut in several places. He left for the Van Cortlandt home after his

MAURETANIA'S CABINS FULL.

Senator Hale Home for Maine Election and Advising Republicans to Work.

The Cunarder Mauretania, in from Liverpool and Queenstown, met fog and impeding eas in the run from the latter port and averaged merely 23 knots. She brought 429 first and 409 second cabin passengers, taxing her accommodations.

Some of the voyagers were William du Pont, Senator Hale of Maine, a member of the monetary commission that has been studying the financial systems of Euorpe; studying the financial systems of Euorpe; W. A. W. Melville, Sir Thomas Lipton's secretary; H. F. Mertin, general manager of the sales department of the Pennsylvania Steel Company; Charles G. Gates, Sir Francis A. Channing, M. P.; the Rev. Dr. Robert A. Gibson, Robert Galloway, the Right Rev. R. A. White, Bishop of Michigan City; Hon. J. W. Van Dyke and Hon. J. C. R. Taylor, and F. J. Renson and E. Lionel Benson, English bankers.

Senator Hale said he had come back

English bankers.
Senator Hale said he had come back ahead of the other members of the monetary commission because of the election in his State. He said he did not agree with the roseate views of the optimistic Republicans that Taft would win easily. He predicted that the Republicans would have no walkver and that the party ought to get actively

Salling to-day by the Cunarder Campania for Queenstown and Liverpool: Mr. and Mrs. W. Livingston Bruen, the Rev. A. Hendricks, Mrs. Richard D. Holt, James

Young, the Rev. Thomas Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. G. Fitzgerald and J. W. Appleyard Passengers by the Anchor liner Columbia ff for Glasgow:

Prof. Hugh Black, Lady Templemore, the Rev. and Mrs. M. M. McLeod, George A Gunther, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haddon, the Hon. Richard Chichester, the Hon. Gerald Chichester and George H. Watt. Aboard the Atlantic Transport liner Minneapolis, for London: Mr. and Mrs. George H. Jewett, J. T. Carew, F. B. Milne, Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver S. Westcott and Miss Millicent

By the Philadelphia of the American Line, which sailed to-day for Plymouth, Cherbourg and Southampton: Capt. Stanley Cullingham, Mrs. Elizabeth Howard, George V. Shemeld, Mrs. William Ludlow, Dr. and Mrs. C. Jefferson Miller and Mrs. J. E. Martin.

Passengers by the Red Star liner Kroon-land, off for Dover and Antwerp: J. Augustus Barnard, Charles Oakes, Mr and Mrs. C. H. Bills, the Rev. Mr. Van der Steen and Mrs. Horace Barnard. Sailing by the Hamburg-American liner resident Lincoln for Plymouth, Cherbourg

and Hamburg:

RECEIVER FOR A.O. BROWN & CO.

U. S. JUDGE HOLT TO APPOINT ONE THIS MORNING.

Counsel for the Failed Firm Objects, As serting That It Isn't Insolvent-Stock Exchange Committee Continues Its Inquiry-Estimate of Brokers' Losses.

William G. Rosenberg of the law firm of House, Grossman & Vorhaus, counsel for the creditors of A. O. Brown & Co., who have filed a petition in bankruptcy against the concern, appeared before United States Judge Holt at his summer home in Woodstock, Conn., yesterday afternoon and ar gued for the appointment of a receiver. Sidney Rosenbaum of Hoadley, Lauterbach & Johnson, attorneys for A. O. Brown

& Co., was on hand to oppose the applica-

Mr. Rosenberg argued that unless a reeiver was appointed creditors with claims of $200,000 would be unable to ascertain the condition of the concern. He contended that the firm was insolvent and that various estimates of the liabilities and assets had been made. There would be no opportunity to get at the facts unless a receiver was appointed and an order issued. directing the examination of the assignee or the members of the firm concerning its financial status.

Lawyer Rosenbaum declared that the firm was not insolvent and had merely made a temporary assignment for the purpose of finding out where it stands. He said the members of the firm were convinced that the assets fully equal the liabilities and that the assignee would be able to straighten things out satisfactorily f he wasn't interefered with.

Judge Holt said he would appoint a receiver for the firm this morning at 9 o'clock. He said over the telephone last night that he wouldn't have anything to say on the subject until this morning. A subposes in the receivership proceed ngs was served on D. W. Noel, counsel for Assignee Rhoades, yesterday morning Both Mr. Noel and Edward Lauterbach were at the office of A. O Brown & Co. all day conferring with the partners. Assignee Rhoades said that none of the partners had been before the Stock Exchange committee during the day and that there committee during the day and that there was nothing to say regarding the receiverhip proceedings.

ship proceedings.

Edward Lauterbach said that the members of the firm were still confident that it is solvent and had no fear of the outcome. Concerning the application to Judge Holt for a receiver Moses H. Grossman said:

"We have every reason to believe that if Judge Holt acts on our petition he will appoint a high class man, one who thoroughly understands Stock Exchange procedure. The receiver is necessary for us, because the information gained by the Stock Exchange examining committee is not available for us. Our examination will proceed along different lines anyhow."

The special investigating committee of the Stock Exchange continued its-researches yesterday behind closed doors. As on the previous day the findings were kept secret it being understood that the evidence is to be given out only in summarized fashion at the close of the entire investigation.

It leaked out, however, that Albert O. Brown, the head of the firm, had been questioned very closely in regard to an allegation that he continued to do business on the floor of the Stock Exchange after certification of his checks had been refused by the two banks in which the firm conducted the principal amount of its banking business. According to one broker, who was said to have been summoned before the close of banking hours with a check in excess of $100,000.

Certification was refused, but the broker excess of $100,000. Certification was refused, but the broken Certification was refused, but the broker believed it simply a clerical mishap, and had no doubt at that time of the solvency of A. O. Brown & Co. Tuesday he went again to the bank with the same check and found many other messengers in line abead of him. He insisted upon seeing the officers of the bank and was able to prove to them that his check had been presented in advance of any of those which messengers held in line. They showed to him, however, that the A. O. Brown & Co. balance was less than the face value of his check. He took the chance of giving his own check for the difference, which was said to be in the neighborud to be in the neighb good of $40,000, and secured certification of his check to the full amount.

his check to the full amount.

It was possible yesterday to arrive at a very close approximation of the indebtedness of the suspended firm to fellow brokers upon the exchange. This indebtedness, it was learned from reliable sources, very closely approximates $300,000, but this figure simply includes the amount owed on accounts bought in after the firm had failed to make delivery. It does not comprise the amount owing in commissions to other brokers or the bills of other brokers for transfer tax stamps on orders executed by transfer fax stamps on orders executed by them for the account of the suspended firm. There is one firm which on Saturday alone did business in 45,000 shares of stock for A. O. Brown & Co. That firm loses for A. O. Brown & Co. That firm loses $900 in its bill for stamps alone, to say nothing of its previous bills for stamps and commissions. This firm and most of the other brokers to whom the suspended firm entrusted the bulk of its orders had not collected on commission and stamp bills since the first of August. The aggregate of indebtedness on these accounts is therefore year large.

of indebtedness on these accounts is there-fore very large.

Another heavy liability which had not previously been taken into consideration was talked of yesterday by some of the was talked of yesterday by some of the attorneys who are proceeding against the firm. This liability attaches from the leases made by the firm of offices in the Waldorf, Plaza, Hoffman House and other buildings and hotels here and elsewhere. While the firm is doing no business, the rent and many of the other expenses are running on. and one of the best arguments for the early appointment of a receiver was that the interests of the creditors demanded a sublease of these quarters at the earliest possible moment. In this city the rent paid by the firm was very much greater than that the firm was very much greater than that paid by any other firm with a similar number of branches.

of branches.

Lewis Ginter Young, who was taken into the firm in 1904, is reported to have brought more money into the firm than has any other member. Mr. Young was but 25 years old at the time of his entrance into the business, and at that time had inherited a comfortable fortune. When he was admitted as a partner, one of Dun's reports gave his wealth as $300,000 in his own right.

own right.

The money left to Mr. Young and his mother, whether outright or in trust, was much greater than this. It was said yesterday that their total resources, available or in trust, amounted to at least $3,000,000, and the report was circulated that Mr. Young's mother had put a large amount of her fortune into the business. It was even said that she and her son and, perhaps, the relatives, had invested an aggregate of $2,000,000 in the A. O. Brown & Co. business.

MINING PROMOTER HELD. Another Complainant Against Henry T.

Redman, Nabbed by Police. Another complaint was made yesterday against Henry T. Rodman, the aged broker of 2199 Broadway, who is accused of swindling two Newark women by getting them to invest in a mining venture. James P. Clancy of St. Johns place, Brooklyn, is the latest victim. He called up Assistant Dis-latest victim. He called up Assistant District Attorney Kindleberger and told him that Rodman had swindled him out of $200. Clancy was to communicate with Mr. Kindleberger again later in the day.

Rodman was arraigned before Magistrate Cornell in the Tombs court yesterday, but further examination was put off until Wednesday and the $5,000 bail was continued. Rodman said that he had been engaged in the brokerage business for eighteen months, and that when he found out that his associates were crooked he fired them out of his office. The old man also asid that he was suffering from Bright's disease and was partially blind.

HAINS CASE TO GRAND JURY

The President Tackles Politics, the Navy. Horses, and Gets Away With the Tasks. BROTHERS HELD WITHOUT BAIL OYSTER BAY, Aug. 28,—The busy day sign was hung out at Sagamore Hill again -THE DEFENCE.

> indications That They Will Try to Show That T. Jenkins Hains Only Drew His Revelver to Protect His Brother-Outline of the Prosecution's Evidence.

Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., and his brother, chairman, came down from New York in T. Jenkins Hains, were held yesterday without bail for the Grand Jury. No witnesses were put on the stand for the defence and only three for the prosecution tame affair. The plan of the campaign includes a large amount of work in the middle The questions asked of Charles H. Roberts, member of the Bay Side Yacht Club, West where the President is supposed to have the greatest number of supporters, who swore that T. Jenkins Hains threatened him with a revolver, by Eugene N. L. Young, and his advice on the situation in these of counsel for the prisoners, brought out States was especially sought. Mr. Sherthe defence which will be offered for T. man and the Congressmen left immediately Jenkins Hains.

It developed in the examination of Mr.

Roberts that T. Jenkins Hains said to him after the shooting:

What could I do? He was my brother have tried for some time to persuade him not to do this. I am just as sorry about it as you are."

President on the duties of his new office and to return thanks for the appointment.

The President also found time to talk Mr. Young also questioned the witness over navy matters with Capt. Cameron McR. Winslow. Another luncheon guest was Col. John M. Simpson, the Republican candidate for Governor of Texas. Col. Simpson is an old friend of the President. He came seeking the sympathy which is always extended to Republican candidates in Texas. as to the exact moment when T. Jenkins Hains drew his revolver, the idea being to make it appear that T. Jenkins Hains took no action until he believed his brother's life was in danger. Another question by Mr. Young gave the impression that the The real business of the day began when defence will try to establish that at the time T. Jenkins Hains thrust his revolver Homer Davenport, the cartoonist and horse breeder, and Peter J. Bradley, president of the American Agricultural Chemical Com-pany, arrived at the hill with seven of Mr. Davenport's finest Arab horses from the Davenport desert Arab stud at Morris into Roberts's face the latter was holding Capt. Hains's magazine pistol in his hand. Roberts is in the marble business in Long Island City, and he said he had been a friend of Annis for two years. The witness said that at the time of the shooting he was standing on the gangway of the club float. Mrs. Annis was standing on the stringpiece of the pier. As the boat made a landing the witness heard a shot and a woman scream.

Davenport's finest Arab horses from the Davenport desert Arab stud at Morris Plains, N. J.

Major De Bevoise of Brooklyn, commander of Squadron C, had already brought over from the squadron camp at Huntington a sen of Gen. Gates, the finest of the Justins Morgan breed.

The President long has wanted to examine the Arab horse and compare his points with those of his American bred descendant, the Justins Morgan. The President had sent for Gen. James B. Aleshire, Quartermaster-General of the army, and Gen. James F. Bell, Chief of Staff, two of the best judges of horses in the service, to help him in deciding upon the merits of the breeds.

Among the Arabs was the stallion Haleb, which was given to Mr. Davenport by Nazim Pasha, Governor of Aleppo Syria. The Governor at the same time gave the cartoonist a slave boy whom Mr. Davenport brought to this country. Sied Abdallah, the Bedouin lad, came along to the Hill with the horses. Clad in native costume and armed with a long war spear, not the brotherless variety, but the ordinary arm of the Bedouin Arab he gave an exhibition of desert riding and war play to the President and his guests. The other spectators included Mrs. Roosevelt and Cornelius Vanderbilt.

After the Bedouin boy had shown his "I started toward Mr. Annis's boat where it had made a landing," the witness said:
"I got half way across the float when I saw Capt. Hains in a grouching position shooting. Just as I got up to Capt. Hains T. enkins Hains jumped between us, shoved 'Keep off or I'll kill you!"

The witness said that Annis fell into the water, "which became all crimson," and took two strokes toward the float. The witness grabbed Annis and pulled him to the float.

witness grabbed Annis and pulled him to the float.

The witness said that after the shooting he held Capt. Hains's pistol in his hand, but denied pointing it at Thornton Hains.

"Isn't it a fact that no revolver was held by Thornton Hains until you pointed the Captain's revolver at him?" he was asked. The witness hesitated, said he did not see the point of the question and had it repeated before he finally answered "No."

Mr. Roberts said that after picking up the Captain's revolver he came back and stood in front of the Hainses. One of the club members put his arm around Thornton Hains and demanded his revolver, saying: "We can't allow strangers to stand here with loaded weapons." As T. Jenkins Hains hesitated his brother said: "All right. Hand it over. This is a gentleman's club." included Mrs. Roosevelt and Cornelius Vanderbilt.

After the Bedouin boy had shown his skill Kermit Roosevelt, the President's second son, mounted Haleb and galloped him up and down The President was invited to mount, but refused to do so. The paces of Major De Bevoise's Justins Morgan also were shown. The President and the two Generals went over the points of breeds as shown in the specimens before them. They decided that the desert bred Arab was the better animal, but whether or not this decision will lead to the establishment of an Arab stud for the army was not announced.

Hains hesitated his brother said: "All right, Hand it over. This is a gentleman's club." "Shall I?" T. Jenkins asked, and the Captain replied, "Yes."

"You will notice that none of these was exploded," T. Jenkins Hains said as he emptied the cartridges from his revolver and surrendered it.

"I said to Thornton Hains," Mr. Roberts testified, "you are as guilty as your brother. You prevented us from stopping the shooting." Mr. Davenport said that he was more Mr. Davenport said that he was note than pleased with the enthusiastic recep-tion which the President had given the Arab horses. "The President," said Mr. Daven-port, "declared that if there had been any bad points about the horses he would have been the first to pick them out, but he was unable to find any."

What could I do?" Thornton Hains mable to find any."

The President rested a short time after dinner and then got to work with Secretary Forster on the correspondence which had been neglected during the day. "What could I do?" Thornton Hains re-plied. "He was my brother," and added that he had been trying to dissuade his brother from doing it. A club member named Stevens said, "If I had a brother like that I would tie him up with a rope," and then Stevens and T. Jenkins Hains started a discussion as to the relative merits of pistols or fists in settling matters between Interesting Experiments With the June Bug gentlemen.

"Oh, keep still!" the Captain exclaimed.
"This is my affair!" "This is my affair!"
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Capt. Peter C.
Hains, Jr., of the Coast Artillery Corps will probably not wear his uniform at his trial. While there is a disposition on the part of the War Department authorities not to interfere in the case it is believed flying machine June Bug was taken from its shed to-day and the experiment of flyrear portion of the machine was removed, that a quiet tip from Washington was sent to Gen. Hains a few days ago and that Capt. Hains will in the future appear in civilian clothes.

in the second by Mr. Curtiss, both members ASKED TO SPEAK TO UNEMPLOYED of the Aerial Experiment Association.
There seemed to be lack of stability, but it is believed that with practice much more can be accomplished with a machine in which there are no surfaces back of the propeller. A speed of over 40 miles an hour was attained. Roosevelt, Hughes, McClellan and Straus Get Invitations.

Alexander Law, secretary of the National Committee for the Relief of the Unemployed, said yesterday he has written to President The horizontal controls were enecuve and turns were made readily. The vertical control, however, was very sensitive and it was with great difficulty that the ma-chine was kept from pitching. Both land-ings were effected without accident. Roosevelt, Gov. Hughes, Mayor McClellan and Secretary Oscar S. Straus of the Department of Commerce and Labor, inviting them to address the mass meeting called under the auspices of the committee in this city for Labor Day. The sleeping of one hundred homeles people in the Morgue is made the text of the letter which states that the committee has arranged a benefit for those who are out of work on the afternoon of Labor Day at Cooper Union. The letter asks for suggestions from those who are invited to address the meeting as to the best means of benefiting the unemployed. Brooklyn tower of the Williamsburg Bridge

Twelve Enlisted Men Get Commissions. system for nearly an hour. Many passengers were hanging to straps and these were knocked around. Several women and men climbed out of windows to the roadway. Hundreds of passengers walked back to the Brooklyn plaza and crowded the Brooklyn Rapid Transit. Women had their hats and garments torn in their efforts to board cars and a dozen policemen had all they could do to keep order. Nearly an hour elapsed from the time the car was derailed before it was replaced on the tracks and the blockade raised. WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. - Twelve enlisted men of the army recently passed the com-petitive examination at Fort Leavenworth and will receive commissions as Second Lieutenants in the infantry arm. They are: Roy W. Winton, corporal, Company H, Twenty-sixth Infantry; Frederick C. Phelps, sergeant, Sixth Company, Coast Artillery; James L. Frink, sergeant, Troop H, Thirteenth Cavalry; John B. Johnson, sergeant, Company R. Hospital Corps; Edmund R. Andrews, sergeant, 118th Company, Coast Andrews, sergeant, 118th Company, Coast Artillery; Spencer M. Smith, sergeant, Fortieth Company, Coast Artillery; Joseph A. Rogers, corporal, Company G. Ninth Infantry; Walter R. Taliaferro, sergeant, 110th Company, Coast Artillery; Henry J. Damm, suadron sergeant-major, Third Cavalry; Max R. Wainer, master gunner, Coast Artillery; Emmett W. Smith, sergeant, Company I, Twenty-eighth Infantry, and Charles T. Griffith, sergeant, Troop H. Thirteenth Cavalry. Mrs. Harry Clifton died yesterday morning ther home, 27 Hamilton avenue, lonkers, no the sixty-fifth year of her age. She had been ill for about a year. She was born Burnley, England. Her maiden name was anny Edwards and she came to this country no 1889. She was a well known contraito inger in England, having sung in concert and opera for several years. One of her nost successful rôles was that of the Fairy buces in "foianthe." She was married to fir. Clifton, who was also a singer, in 1865. We died about seven years later. She is urvived by three sisters, Mrs. Anderson of ondon, Mrs. Redfern Hollins and Missemily Edwards, and two brothers, Julian and Frederick Edwards of Yonkers.

Edgar Williams of 169 Hicks street, Brook-

Bids for Ten Fast Destroyers September 1. WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.-Bids will be opened on September 1 for the construction of ten torpedo boat destroyers authorized at the late session of Congress. They will have oil burning engines and will be of about 750 tons displacement. They will be built on the Department's designs and will have a speed of at least 29½ knots.

Proposals will also be opened on Tuesday for constructing three naval colliers of 7,200 tons coal carrying capacity.

Naval Criticisms for the President.

had been a deacon and elder of the Second Presbyterian Church. His wife survives him.

Joseph H. Lewis, one of the best known reat estate men in Westchester county, died yesterday at his home in Lawn avenue, Elmsford, near Mount Vernon. He was 74 years old and was born in Lee, Mass. He came to White Plains in 1866 and for many years conducted a real estate business there. For iffteen years he was deputy county clerk of Westchester county. He was a Republican. He leaves a widow and two sons, Joseph K. Jr., and Frank Lewis, and one daughter, Mary H. Lewis.

Fabius H. Busbee of Raleigh, N. C., a distinguished lawyer, died yesterday at Seattle, Wash. Mr. Busbee was attending the meeting of the American Bar Association. He was about 60 years of age and a Past Grand Master of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons. He leaves one brother in Raleigh, a lawyer, Charles M. Busbee; a widow, and several children.

A. W. Sherman died at Washington, Kan, veterly yeard 77. WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Commanders William S. Sims, naval aid to the President and inspector of target practice, and Albert Key, commanding officer of the scout cruise Salem, will go to Sagamore Hill to-morrow to criticise the plans for the two new 20,000 ton battleships authorized at the last session of Congress.

Bids for the Pearl Harbor Dredging. WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 .- Acting Secre Navy Newberry approved the plans for dredging Pearl A. W. Sherman died at Washington, Kan., yesterday, aged 77. He was the last survivor of Wellington's original town company, the site of Wellington being his selection. He Harbor, Hawaiian Islands, where a large naval station is to be established, and bids for the dredging will be opened at the Navy Department on December 1 next. Congress at the late session appropriated $400,000 to begin the work.

Sixty-Five Entrances In New York and Brooklyn To Grand Central Station

From every Subway Kiosk in Greater New York you can go direct to Grand Central Station and then by fast through trains to Buffalo, Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis and the West, which materially lessens the actual journey from your home to destination, via the New York Central Lines.

20th CENTURY LIMITED, leaving at 3:30 P.M., arriving Chicago 8:30 A.M.—the eighteen-hour—

LAKE SHORE LIMITED leaves 5:50 P.M., arrives Chicago 4:00, Cincinnati 1:55, Indianapolis 8:00 and St. Louis 9:45 P.M. next day.

SOUTHWESTERN LIMITED leaves 10:50 A.M., arrives Cincinnati 7:27 and Indianapolis 7:35 A.M. and St. Louis 1:45 P.M. next day.

THE WOLVERINE leaves 4:50, P.M., arrives Detroit, 8:15 and Saginaw 11:87 A.M., Grand Rapids 1:00 and Chicago 8:80 P.M.

The "Water Level Route"

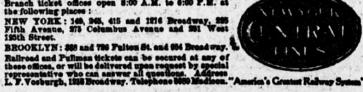

The luxurious trains so conveniently boarded at New York go to the West and Southwestover a gradeless -along the water-route, insuring perfectly com-fortable riding by day and night.

Tickets and Sleeping-Car Accommodations Ticket offices at Grand Central Station and the Station at 198th Street are open day and night every day in the year. Principal dewatewa ticket office, 1916 Broadway, is open every day (holidays and Sundays included), from 8:00

A.M. to 10:00 P.M.

Branch ticket offices open 8:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. at the following places:

BROOKLYN: $50 and 780 Felton St. and 654 Breadway.

POLICEMAN TELLS ON PAL

WHEREUPON PRISONER'S LAW-YER HOWLS CONSPIRACY,

cousing Witness, His Lawyer, the District Attorney and Capt. Henry of Trying to Destroy His Client—Light on Compul-Benjamin Cordes, the policeman who pleaded guilty to extortion, appeared as a vitness yesterday against Policeman William F. Waltman, who is on trial in General Sessions on the same charge. The two policemen were accused by two women of the street of arresting them and then letting them go when each paid $3. It had become pretty well known that Cordes would testify against his partner and the court room was filled with policemen who wanted to hear the testimony Cordes was the first witness called by Assistant District Attorney McGuire. J. J. Bennett, counsel for the Patrolmen's Protective Association and Waltman's lawyer, made a protest against Cordes being heard. He pictured him as a felon who could not be believed and the jury should not be allowed to hear what he had to say. Judge Malone said he would allow the testi-

Judge Malone said he would allow the testimony.

"Was it on the advice of your counsel, Abe Levy, that you pleaded guilty?" asked Lawyer Bennett.

"No; not directly," replied Bennett.

Mr. Levy did not promise him immunity if he implicated Waltman, Cordes said, Mr. McGuire thought that Mr. Bennett was trying to find out information that was privileged between lawyer and client.

Mr. Bennett roared:

"It is my contention that this scoundrel [Cordes], his lawyer, Abe Levy, the District Attorney and Capt. Dominick Henry of the Mercer street station are in a conspiracy to save Cordes and destroy my spiracy to save Cordes and destroy of the Mercer street station are in a conspiracy to save Cordes and destroy my client."

"Ge ahead and prove it; I'll give you every latitude," said Judge Malone.

Then Cordes told why he had confessed. He had not told the truth to the Magistrate or to the Police Commissioner. But he wanted to save his job.

"And I told the truth to get this whole thing off my mind" he said. "My conscience has been troubled. I have not been promised anything, but I hope to getsome consideration for my repentance.

That ended the prosecution's case and Lawyer Bennett called as his first witness Mr. Levy. Mr. Bennett wanted to know right off if it wasn't true that Mr. Levy had an arrangement with the District Attorney to have all his clients plead guilty and get off with a light sentence if they testified against their confederates.

"I wish I could make arrangements with the District Attorney that would satisfy all my clients," said the suave Mr. Levy. Mr. Levy couldn't tell how many of his clients had pleaded guilty in a year.

"Why did you advise Cordes to plead guilty?" asked Mr. Bennett.

"Because he was guilty," answered Mr. Levy, "and I thought it would be for his best interests to tell the truth."

Waltman then took the stand and made a general denial of the charge. He said he and Cordes had been doing excise work that night. They found difficulty in getting into salcons. Cordes went sway to get a stool pigeon who would help them. That was at 2:10 o'clock. He did not see Cordes again until 3:15 o'clock. He was not present, he said, when the women were held up.by Gordes. The contention of Walt-man is that Cordes and the stool pigeon were the men who got the $3 each.

Waltman said that Capt Henry had the men in the Mercer street station sign a temperance pleage. Other, policemen said that Waltman's character was good and that Capt. Henry had very strong ideas on the temperance question.

When an adjournment was taken Lawyer Bennett said he would make an effort to find the stool pigeon. The trial will be continued on Monday.

Praud Indictments Against St. Louis Elec-

Sr Louis, Aug. 28. - Indictments were voted late this afternoon against five election judges and cierks of the notorious Third ward. Names are withheld until after arrest. The Grand Jury has found amazing frauds in every precinct of the Third ward in the primary at which excongressman Cowherd received the Democratic nomination for Governor. Gov. Folk said to-night he would render all possible aid to discover primary frauds and punish the guilty.

Years of Service Made for years of service are knives, forks, spoons, etc., stamped 1847 ROGERS BROS. When buying silver, you should look for this mark. It assures you of the best. Best ten sets, dishes, meltere, etc., are stamped MERIDEN BRITACO. "Silver Plate that Wears"

TEI OFOR TTOTA. water futers and Coolers Ice Cream Freezers, etc. LEWIS & CONGER

DIED.

KELLOGG.—On Friday, August 28, at Geneva, Switzerland, Edward Kellogg of Wyoming, N.J. Notice of funeral later. LANE.—On August 28, 1908, at Point Pleasant, N. J., Amanda B. Lane, eldest daughter of the late William G. and Mary C. Lane.

MANNING.—At Lakewood, N. J., August 27, 1808, Richard Fisher Manning, in the 85th year of Richard Fisher Manning, in the 25th year of his age.
Funeral service at the residence of his father, Henry S. Manning, 2 West 50th st., Saturday, August 29, 1606, at 11 A. M. Interment at con-

Interment at Greenwood. Service private.

LEMBERS OF TROOP A, NEW YORK CAVALET U. S. V., are requested to attend the funeral of their late comrade, Richard F. Manning, at 3 West 50th st., New York city, on Saturday morning, August 29, at 11 o'clock. RANDALL.—On August 26, at Mamaroneck, N. Ye.
Minna Williams, wife of George D. Rendall.
Funeral services at New York Presbyteries

Church, 126th st. and 7th av., Saturday, the 38th, REYNOLDS.—On Thursday, August 27, at the Polyclinic Hospital, New York city, John Polyclinio Hospital, New York city, John Reynolds, aged 56 years.

Funeral services at his late residence, 60 Plymouth st., Montelair, N. J., on Sunday, August 20, at 230 P. M.

AYER.—On Friday, August 28, as her residence, Goshen, N. Y., Jane, daughter of Richard and Ruth Sears and widow of William M. Sayes, in the 48th year of her ago. Funeral at St. James's Church, Goshen, R. Y., 2 P. M. Sunday, August 20.

TEMPLETON.—On August 26, 1908, at New York city, Elizabeth, beloved wite of Alexander Templeton and daughter of Agnes and John Irvine of Elizabeth, N. J., in the 19th year of her age, useral from her late residence, 428 West Tairty-fifth st., New York city, on Saturday, August 29, 1908, at 1 o'clock. Stamford, Conn., and abeth, N. J., papers please copy.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES

Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church.
Pith Avenue and 55th Street.
Services commence at 11 A. M. and 4 P. M. REY. WILLIAM J. DAWSON, D. D., the noted Evangelist, Author and Lecturer, il preach, both in the morning and afternoon Strangers are cordially invited.

SPECIAL SUMMER RERVICES. ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S CHURCH. Madison Avenue, cor, 44th Street, Sunday mornings at 11 o'clock. Full choir will be present. Seats Free. Preacher, July 28th to August 30th, the REVEREND J. STUART HOLDEN.

New Haven Power House Accident Delays

Trains. BEGREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 28.-The electric service of the New Haven road between New York and Stamford was cripped all of to-day and trains were behind time. The trouble was due to an accident to one of the generators in the power house at Cos Cob. Steam locomotives were utilized.